

2025 NSHG-PM Symposium

2 JUNE 2025, COPENHAGEN, DENMARK

ABSTRACT
DEADLINE
EXTENDED!

AI Opportunities in Nordic Healthcare

Sir Rory Collins
Oxford University
UK Biobank

Olli Kalioniemi
University of Helsinki
SciLifeLab

Unnur Valdimarsdóttir
University of Iceland
Karolinska Institutet

Ole A. Andreassen
University of Oslo

Overwhelmed by the AI hype?

You're not alone ... Join us at the University of Copenhagen's Mærsk Tower to learn more about the emerging role of AI and other information technologies in healthcare and research.

June 2. 13:00 – 17:30, FREE Symposium

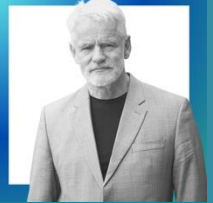

Sir Rory Collins, PI/CEO of UK Biobank, and leading Nordic researchers discuss these topics and others in precision medicine. Reception and Poster session following symposium.

June 3. 13:00 – 14:00, FREE Special Lecture

Unnur Valdimarsdóttir of the University of Iceland and Karolinska Institutet presents the COVIDMENT and covidmentYOUNG projects from a NordForsk-funded international consortium using multimodal data to study COVID and Mental Health in more than 550,000 Nordics and other Europeans.

Register now to save a seat. Final abstract deadline is 20 May, but submit your abstract by Sunday 4 May, 23:59 GMT to qualify for possible short talk or travel fellowship.

NSHG-PM2025.org

Kári Stefánsson
deCODE
genetics

Lili Milani
Estonian Biobank
University of Tartu

Pål Njølstad
University of Bergen

Søren Brunak
University of Copenhagen

June 1-2. Dataviz Workshop: Building Stories with Data

Don't pass up this opportunity to get tips on how to create clear and captivating figures to communicate your work, led by innovative scientist-turned-illustrator, Cara Thompson. Space is limited so register now. Discounts for NSHG-PM members.

